ORDINANCE TO PAVE IS PASSED

Council Takes Another Step Toward
Improvement of Second Street
From Beuna Vista.

PASS SPRINKLER ORDINANCE

Claims For Local Option Election,
Amounting to $337.70, Allowed
at Meeting.

The city council took another step towards paving West Second street, from Beuna Vista Avenue to the Pennsylvania railway, last night when the ordinance authorizing the paving was passed with only one dissenting vote. In passing the ordinance the council turned down the remonstrators completely, believing that the improvement is needed regardless of what three or four property owners might say. Bids for the paving will be received on April 29.

Several efforts have been made to pave Second street. Last spring a resolution was introduced for the improvement but it was postponed with the understanding that work would be done this spring. Because it was the intention of the city to pave the street, no repair work has been done there and the street now is one of the worst in Rushville. Because of the contemplated paving the council cut this street from the list of those to be oiled.

An ordinance appropriating $350 for the purchase of a street sprinkler was passed under suspension of the rules. The sprinkler was not purchased last night although a representative of the Studebaker company was present. The council decided to make the purchase next Monday night at which time there will be a special meeting for the letting of the street oiling contract.

The city allowed the claims of the local option election officials, with the exception of two sheriffs. The two sheriffs were cut $1.50 each to conform with the other sheriffs. The sheriffs that had their bill $1.50 too high were those in the fourth precinct. The total cost to the city of the election as allowed last night was $337.70. This included meals, house rent, election supplies and salaries of officials. The claims were

EVOLVES UNIQUE PLAN TO IMPROVE PUPILS' SPELLING IN CITY SCHOOLS

Superintendent Scholl Will Publish
in Newspapers Those Receiving
Perfect Grade.

KEEN COMPETITION AROUSED

A spirited competition in spelling has been aroused in the Rushville schools by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, the ultimate prize being that the names of the pupils who receive one hundred per cent. shall be published in the Rushville newspapers. The plan is a very unique one and is calculated to arouse much more interest as well as improve pupils in spelling.

Four weeks ago, the superintendent of schools gave to pupils of the fourth to the eighth grades inclusive a list of words which they were asked to learn. Each grade had one hundred and fifty words. On each Friday for three weeks twenty words selected from the words assigned to

The meeting will continue over tomorrow. The first session is tonight. Chief interest attached to the two addresses which will be made by Mrs. F. H. Hope, of Flat, Africa, a returned missionary.

SAYS HIS REVENUE MUST BE INCREASED

A. M. Price Declares he Will Have to
Close Hitchrack Unless More
Money is Paid.

OF GREAT BENEFIT TO CITY

A. M. Price, custodian of the hitchrack, has told some persons that he would have to close the hitchrack the first of next month if his revenue was not increased because he could not afford to operate it at the wages he makes now. He states that there are a number of merchants who are not helping with the support. His rent was raised recently and he says he has to have three or four dollars more on the week anyway to keep the hitchrack open.

Many merchants feel that it would be a mistake to allow the hitchrack to close because it is of immense benefit to farmers who come here. On busy days in Rushville the rack can not accommodate all the people who want to hitch their horses there. Some effort will likely be made to increase the revenue for the custodian.

It is stated that two or three men have been making up the deficiency each week and thus have been bearing a much greater portion of the expense than others. It is felt that this is not fair for a few to have the burden of something that is beneficial to all of the business interests of Rushville.

each grade were given for written spelling. The grades of rooms were tabulated, showing the number of pupils receiving 100 per cent. the number receiving 95 per cent and so on to the number receiving the lowest grades. Immediately after the first comparison of grades there was an effort to get into the 100 per cent class. First one room of a grade won over a like room of the same grade, then again the tables were turned, but the number of pupils receiving 100 per cent grew very rapidly. Averages for rooms from 95 to 99 per cent were the rule.

Commencing Friday of this week twenty words will be selected at random from the lists of 150 and the children will write the words. Those pupils receiving 100 per cent will have their names published in the city papers. This will be continued for three weeks the object being to get each pupil to be able to spell each word correctly. The words selected from each grade are words of common use but not easily spelled.

RAIN HELPS BUT IT ISN'T ENOUGH

Farmers Are Hopeful For More
Moisture so That Crops Will
Not be Damaged.

GROWING WHEAT NEEDS IT

Little Rain That Fell Brightens Vegetation, But Considerably More
is Wanted.

The rain last night and early this morning was not as much as the farmers would like to have seen, but it was of some benefit. Evidence of the rain was to be seen here in Rushville because the moisture brightened up the grass and other vegetation.

The prediction is for more rain and farmers and truck gardeners are hopeful. They feel that it is about time for the weather man to deliver some moisture so that the crops will have a chance. The proverbial April showers are due, the kind that make May flowers, and farmers generally are looking forward to the time when the April showers will come with some regularity.

The wheat crop was never so badly in need of rain at this season as it is right now, according to reports from all over the county. March was an unusually dry month. There is, as a general rule, a heavy rainfall during the month which just closed.

In spite of the fact that moisture has been a scarce article in Rush county this spring, farmers say that they never saw the ground plow better than it has at this season for plowing. Even though the crops reveal the need of rain, the ground does not show it, they say.

It is said to be the case that the lack of moisture has not yet seriously affected the prospects of the wheat crop. The wheat acreage will be larger than common, this season it is said, because of the prospects of a wheat shortage due to the war last fall when the crop was put in, but still the crop in Rush county is not near the equal of what it used to be.

Farmers in the last few years have not been growing any more wheat than their land actually needed because it is not the paying crop that it once was. More attention is being paid to other grains.

Farmers report that it has been many years since as much plowing has been done in Rush county in the spring of the year.

C. S. HUFF DEAD.

Word was received here today of the death of Charles S. Huff, a well known merchant of Martinsville, Ind., and who was known here. Mr. Huff was in this city less than two weeks ago and attended the Mauzy Company opening. Hugh Mauzy and father Charles A. Mauzy will attend the funeral in Martinsville Friday and from there the remains will be taken to Richmond, Ind., for burial. Mr. Charles Mauzy will be a pall-bearer.

TUG COMMANDER WILL FIRE.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 7.—Commander McCracken of the naval tug, Pantuxent on guard over the Prince Eitel Friedrich at Newport News was quoted as saying today he would fire on any vessel stopping within 200 yards of the Eitel without full running lights. At the navy and treasury departments it was said this attitude was approved.

Fred Gale has sold his pool room and cigar store to T. E. McAllister, former chief of police.

ACCOUNT SUIT IN COURT TODAY

Jury Hears Case of J. E. Patton vs.
Jack Reed, Involving Sale of a
Cream Separator.

W. O. ANDREWS IS UP AGAIN

Judge Blair Overrules Motion For
New Trial in Case Which Has
Been Pending Year.

The account suit of John E. Patton against Jack Reed, involving the sale of a cream separator by Patton to Reed, was tried before a jury in the circuit court today. The case was expected to go to the jury late this afternoon. The amount demanded is $75.

In the complaint Patton alleges that he sold a Blue Bell cream separator to Reed for $55, and that Reed has refused to pay the bill. Reed maintains that the separator was guaranteed and did not perform the work that Patton claimed it would. Albert Stevens represents the plaintiff and A. L. Gary appeared for the defendant.

The jury hearing the case was as follows: Thomas C. Gray, E. J. Farthing, J. Ed Caldwell, James Spilman, Robert Kennedy, Elmer Caldwell, Robert Jarrett, T. Ed Medd, Joel Carson, Henry Addison, Charles E. Hall and R. B. Rhodes.

W. O. Andrews appeared this morning before special Judge B. F. Miller to answer contempt proceedings brought by his divorced wife, Hazel Andrews. A citation had been issued for Andrews when he failed to put in an appearance in court last Saturday. Judge Miller released Andrews under further orders of the court, providing he pays to the clerk of the court $5 on or before Saturday, April 17.

Judge Blair, while here yesterday, overruled a motion for a new trial in the case of the State of Indiana on the relation of Albert Greely, et al., against Alonzo and Raymond Hooten. The motion for a new trial has been pending for over a year. The suit was on an account regarding some stone placed on a road and sold by the Greely Stone company. The demand was $1,800 and the jury found for the defendants. It will be recalled that in the testimony in this case one man testified that he weighed some crushed stone and after adding some screening found that the stone weighed less than it did before the screenings were added. This is always remembered here as one of the funniest bits of evidence ever given in the Rush circuit court.

Judge Sparks found for James C. Dean and Samuel A. Webber against Roy Carr, returning a judgment for $85.60. The demand was $100 being based on a note. Carr defaulted and allowed the court to find against him.

French in Battle Near Verdun.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (Via Wireless to London) April 7.—Two French battalions have been annihilated in the fierce battle east and southeast of Verdun, according to an official war office statement today. The official statement also reported an important victory over the Russians at Andrzej, twenty miles east of Memel. A Russian battalion was slaughtered, its commander being among the captured.

Terre Haute Men Can Take Appeal

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—Terre Haute men convicted in the election corruption conspiracy trial, who are awaiting sentence Monday, today reiterated a statement made to the United Press before the trial and stated that they had sufficient funds to carry the case to United States Supreme court. Twenty-seven "hut" politicians, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, were found guilty by a jury yesterday. They will be sentenced by "Federal Judge Anderson.

NEW BUILDING ONLY SOLUTION

This is Opinion of County Commissioners After Inspecting Fayette County Infirmary.

IT IS BEING REMODELED NOW

The county commissioners, Edson Eakin, William Moore and P. A. Newhouse, were in Connersville yesterday where they inspected the buildings of the county poor farm. The Fayette county commissioners have plans under way to remodel the buildings and the contract will be let soon. The local board desired to get an idea of how the improvement was to be made in the hope of getting a line on how to proceed here. The commissioners have asked the county council for an appropriation of $30,000 with which to erect a new building but the council does not seem inclined to take the commissioners word for it and has asked that Amos Butler, secretary of the state board of charities, come here for a conference. The commissioners believed that they might be able to remodel the buildings like the Fayette county board plans to do, but after the inspection, believe that a new building will be the only solution to the trouble.

VILLA AND 12,000 MEN ARE CORNERED

Advices Received at Washington Indicate That Carranzistas May Capture Rebel Leader.

GREATEST BATTLE IMPENDS

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 7.—About 30,000 Carranzistas were believed by war department officials to have Villa and 12,000 men cornered thirty miles from Irapuato.

The department was without advices for 24 hours, but indications were that the two forces were on the eve of one of the Mexican revolutions, greatest battles.

Villa's capture was deemed a strong possibility. General Chao, who after failing to take Tampico last week, was not prompt enough in withdrawing and joining his leaders and was blamed for Villa's plight.

Villa's northeastern Mexican campaign was regarded by many officials here as having almost collapsed and his present position was declared perilous to the highest degree. General Obregon was understood to have taken the offensive. The Carranzistas were closing in on the trapped Villista army and indications were that only a miracle could save Villa.

IS HIGHER THAN FIRST INDICATED

Majority Given William Hale Thompson for Mayor of Chicago is 139,014.

243,797 WOMEN PARTICIPATE

Second Republican Mayor for Chicago Since 1897—Total Vote
Largest Ever Cast

(By United Press.)

Chicago, April 7.—The women—243,797 of them—voted just like any mere man voted in Chicago's municipal election, which today gave the "windy city" its second Republican mayor since 1897.

William H. Thompson was the winning candidate. Complete returns today gave him a plurality of 139,014 over Robert M. Sweitzer the Sullivan candidate who headed the Democratic ticket.

The total vote was 669,309, the largest ever cast in a city election in the United States. Thompson received 390,691; Sweitzer, 251,202; Seymour Stedman, Socialist, 23,826, and John H. Hill, Prohibition, 3,590. Republicans today insisted the Republican victory is a barometer of what the country is going to do in 1916.

Thompson owes much of his success to the women, who, for the first time, were permitted to vote for mayor. The returns indicate that he was given 66 per cent of the women's vote. His woman watchers and lieutenants worked unfalteringly in the tough wards, where they were subjected to the taunts and insults of river rats and the big floating population of hoboes and bums, whose only occupation during the year is that of voting. The women refused to be frightened away from their duty and stuck to the job until the votes were counted, sealed and delivered.

The big plurality given Thompson carries with him the entire Republican city ticket. This ticket was made up of Republicans, Progressives and Independents and the returns show that all these elements put in hard work.

Throughout the campaign the Thompson managers based many of their arguments to voters on the assertion that business and labor conditions throughout the country pre-figured a Republican victory. About 85 per cent of the 750,000 votes registered were cast. According to election officials this set a record.

Some wards hitherto considered strongly Democratic were carried by the Republican candidate and Sweitzer's own precinct in the heart of one of the West Side Democratic strongholds, was carried by Thompson, 300 to 228.

MUCH INDIANA SEED CORN BAD

G. I. Christie of Purdue Says Active Work on Part of Growers Will Be Required

TO GET GOOD STAND THIS YEAR

From 2 to 10 Ears in Every Hundred Either Dead or Very Low in Vitality

Much seed corn in Indiana farms is bad. To secure the necessary seed which amounts to more than eight hundred thousand bushels and which will germinate in a strong way giving a first class stand, will require active work on the part of Indiana corn growers.

In response to the query "What is the Condition of Your Seed Corn?" recently sent out by Professor G. I. Christie of Purdue Agricultural Extension Department, many hundreds of farmers have examined their seed and have found from two to ten ears in every hundred dead or so low in vitality that they are not fit for seed. Exhibits of corn at many shows have also shown low vitality. The hard freezes of the early winter caught many ears containing too much moisture. The time required to eliminate these dead or weak ears will be well spent and will show great returns in the crop.

This last season barren stalks in Indiana corn fields ranged from five to thirty percent. All barren stalks may not be the result of any one factor but it is felt that they are due in a large part to the planting of weak seed. These barren stalks furnish pollen to fertilize the grains on good ears which are used for the next year and which, if conditions are at all favorable, reproduce barren stalks.

Therefore, the planting of high class seed not only insures a good stand but it insures a higher percent of ear bearing stalks. It is estimated that about fourteen ears of corn are required to plant an acre. With a good average yield of seventy bushels, the seed from each ear will produce five bushels in the fall. Estimating corn at fifty cents, the product is worth two dollars and a half. When an ear of corn means so much farmers can afford to give the necessary time to germinate every individual ear. A little time and care now will mean many thousands of bushels of corn on Indiana farms next fall.

MAY FORCE JOKER UPON FARMERS

Author Must Concede on Railroad Fare Bill or Freak Measure Will Become Law

SOME OF PROVISIONS GIVEN

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—Because certain farmers had complained that they did not have friends in the legislature, Sen. E. J. Weetlake, of Minneapolis introduced a "joker" which he said today, he never hoped to pass. Now his political enemies threaten to get behind the bill and force it through with his name attached unless he gives certain concessions on a 2 1/2 cent railroad fare bill. Some of the provisions of the joker follow:

All bulls, on highways, must carry 50 pounds of bells, a steam whistle and an electric headlight of not less than 1,500 candle power.

Cows shall not be permitted to give more than 50 quarts of milk a day. Sheds shall be built over all fields where hired men work in summer.

Produce prices must not be increased without the consent of a commission.

Eight hours shall constitute a hired man's day. He shall not work any Sunday or holiday.

Wagon's single and double trees shall be equipped with automatic couplers, relieving the necessity of hired men going behind horses to make a coupling.

FEAR NO WHEAT SHORTAGE HERE

Department of Agriculture Has it Figured Out That One Million Bushels a Day Can be Shipped

NO DOUBT AS TO HIGH PRICE

Peach Industry is Rapidly Making Strides 39 States Out of 48 Raising Them For Market

(By United Press.) Washington, Apr. 7.—That 1,000,000 bushels of wheat a day can be exported until July 1, in addition to supplying this country's needs, is the reassuring statement from the Agricultural Department. Before July 1, the department points out, the new wheat will be coming in, as there need be no fear of a shortage which will actually deprive the people of this country of bread.

Had it not been for the war, with the closing of the Dardanelles, which locked up Russia's surplus, and had it not been for a world's shortage outside of the United States, estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, the farmers of the United States, instead of selling their wheat at high prices, would really be in a serious condition, the Department experts say. They would be looking eagerly for buyers of their wheat, with prices probably way down below the cost of production.

The 1914 crop of the United States was estimated at 891,000,000 bushels. In addition to this it was estimated that the amount of wheat carried over from the 1913 crop was 76,000,000 bushels, so that there was on hand a total of about 967,000,000 bushels. The normal consumption of wheat in this country is about 5.3 bushels, so that it would require 520,000,000 bushels to supply food requirements of the United States, besides about 90,000 bushels needed for seed.

So that the surplus remaining for export was, roughly, 357,000,000 bushels. On January 30 about 210,000,000 bushels had been exported, which left at that time, 40,000,000 more bushels available for export than the average at that time during the last five years.

So that Mr. Farmer, much as he may deplore the war and the slaughter, may at least be thankful that something prevented him from finding himself with what would have almost been a drug on the market on his hands. Instead he finds himself with the highest price in years for his big money crop.

How general the peach industry has become is brought out strongly in a bulletin just issued by the Department of agriculture, in which it was shown that 39 of the 48 states have peach orchards of commercial importance. It was pointed out that peaches do well on a wide range of types of soil including even some of the moderately heavy clay loams and clays. A prime requisite, however is that the soil be well drained. Peaches will not grow successfully on poorly drained soils while requiring fairly fertile soil, peach trees do not particularly require a very large amount of nitrogen. Soil very rich in nitrogen is not to be desired as a general rule, since it is likely to induce an excessive growth of foliage. Alkali soils are not suitable for peaches, though a small amount of alkali will not be necessarily dangerous. It is safer, however, to avoid them as a general rule as far as possible.

Ground that is higher than the surrounding country is usually desirable for peach orchards, since frosts are not so likely to injure the trees. Height above sealevel is not so important in this particular as height above the surrounding country, on account of the tendency of cold air to settle to the lowest levels. Danger of frost is also minimized if the peach orchards are near a large body of water. Due to the fact that water in large bodies warms up more slowly in the spring that the nearby land it has a tendency to check early blossoming, with the result that there is less danger of frost destroying the

THE TRADING STAMP

WHY WE HAVE NEVER USED THEM

We are frequently asked, "Why do you not give Trading Stamps?" We take this method of informing the public on this point.

The great fundamental reason is that we are fully persuaded their use is a positive hindrance to the highest degree of efficiency in service to our patrons. We believe the Trading Stamp as operated today is a Humbug and a Fraud, because of its false pretense of being of Value to the merchant and his customer. We say it is of value to neither of these parties, and can be of value only to Stamp Companies issuing them, and therefore is wrong and must be abolished.

We believe, when you figure the entire cost of waste of time and other incidental expenses, the rate per cent of cost is prohibitive to the merchant, unless used to obtain an increased rate of profit on his sales.

We believe the customer, the collector of these stamps, who stops to ponder on the time used to gather them, and the meager return in value for this time, will conclude as we do, that his or her share of the family gross receipts can not be earned by using their time where the pay is so slight.

It's Underwear This Time

—Says Mr. Wise

Thought better mention this subject early before you purchased some elsewhere and found out about our "VASSAR" Underwear later—we know you would be sorry.

Here's the reason—

While "Vassar" Union Suits are being knit (each suit separately, remember), the cuffs and anklets are automatically knit on, without a seam. In most suits, you know, these cuffs and anklets are sewed on—and there is bound to be a seam, however well they are sewed.

Here then, we have a garment that is fashioned to shape in the knitting—has selvedge edges throughout, and has cuffs and anklets knit and not sewed on.

But there's still another and most important distinguishing feature of Vassar Union Suits in the Swiss Rib fabric. This form of knitting gives the highest possible degree of elasticity—the kind that "comes back" as well as stretches out. This fabric in connection with the shaping in the knitting is largely responsible for the perfect fitting of Vassar suits.

As the machine on which these suits are made are controlled exclusively by the Vassar Company, it is impossible to find a combination of these features in any other line.

It is hardly necessary to state here that only the best materials are used.

Washington, April 7.—More than 400,000 men in 28 states will be thrown out of work in from 30 to 60 days unless the government persuades England to permit America to import German dye stuff, according to a delegation which appealed through Secretary Tumulty to President Wilson for relief.

The warm sunshine today brought out the garden microbe and as a result many people were bitten. There is no relief for those attacked by this bug unless they hustle out of doors, dig in the dirt and plant something there with the intention of having it grow. The weather today made many small boys practice holding two fingers in the shape of a "ve" which, as everybody knows, is the "let's go swimmin'" invitation. It is a little early yet for swimming in the river but there is no way against thinking about it.

DRAMATIC CHAT.

New York, April 7.—Letters to me from friends in "dear old Lannun" declare that American plays, particularly late Broadway hits, and American players are decidedly "Vogue." At least a half dozen past and present successes here are now playing in London to capacity houses, despite the depression of the war.

A Londresque tinge is given in dramatic critiques. I have received the following on the comedy "Excuse Me," which is playing at the Garrick:

"Considering that the passengers (in a Pullman) are together for four days it will be readily understood that much may happen, especially in such a go-ahead country as America."

"Go-ahead country" just fancy! Then the critic goes on to say:

Mr. Willis Sweetman, a comedian of high repute in New York, has crossed the Atlantic to play his original character of the train attendant, or porter, a colored gentleman of much drollery."

Other Broadway successes now playing in London are "The Girl in the Taxi," "Raffles," "Are You a Mason," and even "Florodora." Sir Charles Wyndham will also shortly produce the farce "Seven Days." "Twin Beds" is also to be produced there soon.

Easter week is to witness the launching of a new musical comedy "Nobody Home" along the new lines of being minus a chorus. Oh! yes, there will be plenty of pretty girls, according to advance notices, but they will not be "Chorus" girls. Instead they will be called principals. It is announced that they will all have distinct parts and will "wander about" the stage instead of acting in concerted numbers. Miss Elizabeth Marbury will lead the company at the Princess.

McIntyre and Heath's tour has been extended in bookings to the middle of May.

Following historic custom many Broadway houses closed yesterday in observance of Good Friday.

Charles Frohman is preparing to launch a new, and what is declared a "real" war play, "The Hyphen" is the name of the piece, which was snapped up hurriedly by Frohman upon being offered by a comparatively obscure playwright. Because of its timeliness it was prepared for immediate production.

The advance sale for "Sinners" at William A. Brady's playhouse has been advanced to July 1.

Easter Monday will witness the premier of "The Yoemen of the Guard" with De Wolf Hopper doing yoeman service as the star. The Gilbert and Sullivan opera will, however, be sung one week in New York, in order so that remaining features of the repertoire may be given in measure with the demand. The engagement here is for a month.

BELIEVED IT WILL INTERNE.

(By United Press.)

Norfolk Va., April 7.—The commander of the German concerted cruiser Prinz Eitel Freidrich, it was believed today, had notified the federal authorities she will interne. Official confirmation was lacking. The vessel was still at anchor.

TODAY'S ODDER STORY.

(By United Press.)

John Day, Ore., April 7.—Juvenile wrath grew hot when principal E. S. Stutz of the John Day Grammar school ruled that "m-u-l-l-e-i-n" is the correct spelling. It came out at a recent orthographical contest. Next day the adherents of "mullen" waylaid Stutz, bombarded him with eggs and drove him back to his boarding house. Parental apologies followed as many spankings and Professor Stutz has agreed to referee another spelling bee.

More News Piracy.

The Tuesday edition of the American contained seventeen headed articles clipped from the columns of the Daily Republican, and none from the Jacksonian. This, of course, does not include the long list of persons and locals which were reprinted.

Financing New Freedom.

An index to the fiscal chronicle of the Wilson administration the New York Sun believes, would run something like the following tabulated form:

1. Treasury net balance, $166,000,000.
2. Ordinary revenues offset ordinary expenditures.
3. Tariff revised drastically downward.
4. Income tax law passed.
5. Deficiency in revenues.
6. Record appropriations by congress.
7. Emergency war tax levied.
8. More record breaking appropriations.
9. Revenue deficiency grows.
10. Treasury's impending bankruptcy discussed.
11. Government bond sales in prospect.

Although the total appropriations of the sixty-third congress, which finished its labors recently, were $177,000,000 larger than the aggregate appropriations of the sixty-first congress, the last one controlled in both branches by the Republicans, they were still $83,000,000 less than the estimates of expenditures submitted by the New Freedom directors. The balance in the treasury is hovering around $40,000,000, and is more the represented by treasury holdings of silver and of fractional currency. The actual treasury deficit at the end of next June promises to be anywhere from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 or more.

The New Freedom evidently comes high, but if we must have it, we have got to pay for it.

No Demand for Fights

The Huntington Herald calls attention to the fact that there is a vast difference between interest in and approval of a prize fight. There isn't any doubt but that a prize fight is the most brutal form of sport ever indulged in by Americans. The mere fact that the fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard attracted the attention of nearly every person who reads newspapers does not necessarily mean that every person who displayed any interest what ever in the fight approved of it. It has not been proved that there is a demand for prize fights in the United States. One fact alone that the gate receipts were under $50,000—when it is considered that the promoters announced in advance that the seat sale amounted to $100,000—indicates a waning interest. Additional interest was lent, too, to the fight at Havana the other day before it was a battle to regain the championship for the white race.

Cause for High Wheat

The United States department of agriculture says that if Russia's surplus wheat crop had not been bottled up in the Black Sea, and that if there had not been a world shortage, estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, the farmers of the United States, "instead of selling their wheat at high prices, would really be in a serious condition and would be looking for buyers of their wheat, with prices probably way down below the cost of production."

The department goes on to say that the crop of the United States was estimated at 891,000,000 bushels and that in addition to this there were 76,000,000 bushels carried over from the 1913 crop, so that there was on hand a total of 967,000,000 bushels. The normal consumption of wheat in this country is 5.3 bushels, so that it would require 520,000,000 bushels to supply the needs of the United States, not counting 90,000,000 bushels for seed. Then the surplus remaining for export was near 357,000,000 bushels. Of this amount 210,000,000 bushels had been sent abroad January 30, which was 40,000,000 bushels for export than is usually available at that time for the same purposes.

So the farmer who is thanking the Democratic administration for the dollar-and-a-half wheat had better stop and reconsider. If it were not for the throat cutting that is going on in Europe, he would probably not be receiving much for his wheat crop. We do not suppose, of course, that our Democratic friends will claim any credit for the high price of wheat.

What of the Treasury?

Under the last Republican administration there were 26 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

Last year, under a Democratic machine administration, there were 46 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

The other day this department of the state government was "reorganized" under the direction of a Democratic administration, and there are now 58 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

This is only one of hundreds of reasons why Indiana is forced to borrow money at a burdensome rate to meet expenses under a Democratic administration.

Considerable praise is due the present board of county commissioners for their efforts to beautify the court house lawn. The trees which have been planted will make of the lawn a different place entirely once a few years growth has been added on to them, and with the co-operation of the custodian, who has planted a few flower beds, the barrenness of the lawn will be removed and it will be an oasis in a desert, surrounded by hot brick pavements, as it is.

Plenty of Men.

(Richmond Palladium.)

About the time Contractor T. J. Connell and his foremen were frantically informing two hundred or three hundred applicants for jobs on cement roadway construction work on South Twenty-third street that no additional laborers were required, the man responsible for the landslide of job hunters, Albert Mox, a dismissed foreman, was in city court listening to the prosecutor read an affidavit charging him with public intoxication. Mox drew a fine of $1 and costs.

Yesterday morning Mox, who said he was "taking a day off" and was hunting for men to work on South Twenty-third street, appeared at police headquarters and asked Chief Goodwin if he would not inform all the homeless men who sleep in the basement of the city building that they could get jobs by applying to him Saturday morning. At that time it was suspected that the man had been drinking a little but there were no indications that he was drunk.

KERN IS LOOKING OVER THE GROUND

Is Making Careful Survey of Situation to Determine What Chance

He Has

PROSPECTS ARE NOT GOOD

Candidates for Places on Democratic

Ticket are Said to be Few and Far Between

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—Since United States Senator John W. Kern returned to Indiana from Washington it is said his close advisors have been making a careful survey of the political situation throughout the state and it is said that they are now in possession of enough information to cause them to realize that they are whipped to a standstill a year in advance of the opening of the 1916 campaign. Kern, himself, according to reports, is very much dejected over the reports that have come to him, "There are too many people in Indiana hammering business" is the remark that is credited to have been made recently by one of Kern's close political lieutenants.

When Kern made his winning campaign for the senate back in 1910 the burden of his whole speeches was an attack on the high cost of living. Kern was very sarcastic in his reference to food prices under a Republican administration. He had much to say regarding "forty cent bacon" and he kept hammering away at this topic from the opening to the close of that campaign and it was the judgment of observing politicians that this line of talk by Kern had a most important bearing on the result at the election.

However, there are indications at this time that when Kern again takes the stump as a senatorial candidate his 1910 promises to lower the cost of living will be recalled to his discomforts. Under a Democratic administration wages have been reduced but not the cost of living, and thousands of industrious workingmen have been thrown out of employment by the operations of a Democratic tariff law. These facts will place Mr. Kern on the defensive from the start and it will be generally recalled that "on the defensive means on the run."

Another thing that has helped tint the atmosphere in the Kern camp a pronounced shade of blue is the fact that candidates for places on the Democratic ticket are few and far between. Months ago it looked like there might be sharp and spirited contests for every place on the Democratic state ticket but for some reason or other things have changed since last election day. Men who, before election, were full fledged candidates have backed away. In the Democratic camp at this time there is a choice collection of "cold feet" as was ever placed on exhibition. The passage of a primary law has not helped matters in the least. The truth of the matter is that the would-be Democratic office seekers realize full well that there is not a chance in the world to defeat the Republican state ticket next year and not many of them are consumed with a desire to conduct an expensive campaign simply for the empty honor or the fun of it. Of course, this attitude on the part of men who had been listed as prospective candidates has helped to dishearten Kern and has close camp followers.

Another thing that is causing a lot of worry among the Democratic politicians is the unprecedented activity of Republicans throughout Indiana. Not a week passes that a big Republican meeting is not held in some part of the state. Haven't heard of many Democratic love feasts having been held during the past three months have you? The explanation is found in the fact that there is no interest and enthusiasm even among the professional Democratic politicians and when the so-called leaders are ready to give up long before the battle is on how pronounced must be the lethargy among the rank and file of the party! Privately, there are few well posted Democratic politicians in the state who will not admit that "the stuff is off with us." One man holding a job under the state administration predicted to a friend the other day that the next Republican candidate for the presidency would receive between ten and eleven million votes.

There are a hundred Democratic reasons why the Kern crowd is despondent over the outlook and fully that many Republican reasons.

A "Business" Revival.

In an editorial published in the Wall Street Journal some eight years ago, and republished many thousands of times by English speaking newspapers all over the world (perhaps oftener than any other production of the kind), it was pointed out that a decline in religious belief was a serious matter for the business of this or any country.

It was advanced then, and the proposition is now repeated, that any man engaged in commerce would prefer to do business with one who sincerely believed in God, and responsibility in a future life for errors committed during his little time on earth, than with one who believed in nothing. To put it in the boldest form, the insurance risk would be less. Such a man would try to keep his contract, not because he feared the courts or the police, but because he believed himself responsible to the highest court of all.

Not long ago it was pointed out in these columns that one of the effects of the war might be a widespread religious revival. There is a difference, not of degree but of kind, between the man who sincerely believes in something and the man who doubts everything. I would be wrong to say that the form of his belief does not matter. But if he is sincere it is better to believe something than nothing. Perhaps nine-tenths of the evils from which we suffer are beyond the reach of statutory law. But they are all susceptible to amendment of conscience through the mercy of God.

There is every sign that such a religious revival is developing; and if this is the case, it is of infinite concern to business men. Even such movements as are inaugurated by spectacular evangelists, who preach down to their hearers rather than up to God, are significant. If that sort of froth or scum is apparent on the surface, there is a movement of greater depth and potency below. In this direction lies reform, because the only real reform starts in the individual heart, working outward to popular manifestation through corporations, societies and legislatures.

Here, then, is the better remedy, and a better promise for future business managed under the best standards of honor and humanity, than anything congress can enact, or the department of justice can enforce. Here is a movement which renders investigation committees unnecessary, which brings employer and employee together on the common platform of the love and fear of God. This is the promise of the future, and it is something which Providence in its infinite mercy grants us, to assuage the wickedness and misery of war.

If this great thing emerges from the terrible conflict now in progress, if thereby here shall be created peoples sober, reverent, industrious, forbearing and not deficient in that wholesome sense of humor which is bred of pity and humanity, we may say that in spite of ourselves, through the goodness of God war is not all loss.

Representative Borland Would Let People Vote To Change Constitution

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Apr. 7.—Representative William F. Borland of Missouri is not one of those who believes in the bromide pronouncement, "What we need is less law-making not more of it." He believes, rather, the contrary.

"It is not a bad sign," he says, "that such a universal appeal is made by the American public to Congress for legislation upon every conceivable subject from religion or the price of bread to how much powder a woman should use on her face before marriage."

But he was talking about the constitution when he said it and talking seriously on the question of whether amending that document now and then is a good thing or otherwise.

"Can we be certain?" Rep. Borland asked, "that our governmental institution will remain rigid and static because we do not amend the written charter?"

Answering himself he said, "We can be sure of the reverse. Government is a progressive science. It cannot stand still. It must develop and grow with civilization and the advance of public opinion. An attempt to keep governmental institutions static is like binding the limbs of a growing child."

"Our Federal system has grown in an astonishing degree since the Civil War. Whether this growth has been constitutional or extra constitutional is a question that the wisest lawyer would not attempt to solve. For exactly 100 years—that is from the forming of the Constitution in 1887—every Federal official, every judge and more than 90 per cent of our lawyers and legislators believed that the clause of the Constitution giving the Federal Government jurisdiction over commerce between the several states was purely negative and restrictive in its operations. The clause had never been evoked as the basis of affirmative legislation by Congress. Its effects was supposed to be fully exhausted in preventing discriminatory laws by the several states which would interfere with the natural course of commerce."

"In 1887 Congress passed the first feeble experimental draft of the interstate commerce law providing for an affirmative control over one of the greatest channels of commerce. In the quarter of a century that has followed the enactments on the subject of interstate commerce have been so numerous and so far-reaching as to defy legal classification and analysis."

"The Federal government not only regulates rates; terms and conditions of service; safety of passengers and employees expenditures, organization and accounts of transportation companies; payment of damages to shippers equipment and construction of cars; but it passes upon the character and quality of goods that are to be carried; it prohibits entirely traffic in certain classes of commodities it controls the packing and handling of poisons and explosives and imposes a multitude of restrictions."

"The pure food law prevents a man carrying a can of beans across a state line unless it is marked 'United States Inspected.' Scarcely an article can be bought in either a drug store or a corner grocery that does not bear the O. K. of Uncle Sam."

"Two people of the opposite sex cannot travel together from one state to another until the Government is satisfied they carry no importer intent in their minds."

"This remarkable expansion of the interstate commerce clause is but one example of the widening sweep of our Constitution. I might instance many others—the construction of the Panama Canal; the socialization of Alaska, by which the government becomes a vast proprietor, improving and developing a commercial property; the irrigation projects of the West and more recently the water power projects by which the government becomes a public service corporation engaged in constructing and operating a public utility."

"The temptation at the present time is to find somewhere in the four corners of the constitution power for the federal government to do anything which seems to be beneficial at the particular time. I do not complain of this. I believe in it. Our conception of the powers and functions of government increase with our growing confidence in our country."

"I think we should frankly acknowledge that changes may still be made in our Constitution, the powers of our government enlarged and its control put more strictly into the hands of the people without serious injury to our institutions. Public opinion once thoroughly formed and crystallized into a settled conviction will find a way of expressing itself."

"It would have been a blessed thing for this country if Congress had had the courage or the wisdom to submit the 13th amendment, abolishing slavery, in 1850, at the time California applied for admission. It might have been a generation to have secured the adoption of the amendment by the requisite number of states, but it would eventually have been done, and would have saved untold blood and treasure, while producing in the end exactly the same results."

"There is but one way to tell whether the people want the Constitution amended and that is to let them vote on it. The way to preserve the Constitution and to make it really American is to keep it constantly adapted to the best thought of the American nation."

CHANGE IN FARE IS AUTHORIZED

Action of State Commission on T. H.

I. & E. Petition Indicates I. & C's Will be Granted.

THE SAME REQUEST IS MADE

The fact that the state public service commission has granted the petitions of the Union Traction Company of Indiana and the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company—the latter just allowed yesterday—to place the "copper zone" system of charging passenger fares in effect, indicates that the commission will grant a similar petition, now pending, which was filed by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company. The charge on the T. H. I. & E. goes in effect May 1st.

The petition from the company has been pending before the commission for some time. Many other interurban lines of the state have followed the lead of the Union Traction Company of Indiana, the first to petition for authority to adopt the new system.

Commissioners say the increases in fares allowed the roads under the new system practically are negligible, when compared with the total incomes of the roads.

IS HIGHER THAN FIRST INDICATED

ceded the election to the Republicans early in the evening and left their headquarters.

Fifteen minutes after the polls closed, MacLay Horne, Democratic state's attorney, notified Thompson of a plot to withhold several precincts in the large Democratic wards and alter the figures so as to elect Sweitzer. Squads of detectives were hurried immediately into the suspected districts and the officials warned not to withhold the returns.

The day was marked by much disorder and violence in a small way. Expecting bloodshed and riots, the police department and the state attorney's office had taken unusual precautions and incipient riots were promptly nipped.

"DRYS" WIN IN WISCONSIN

Milwaukee Wis., April 7.—Returns from yesterday's election throughout the state show a gain for the "drys" in thirteen towns while the "wets" gained one town. Thirteen towns now "wet" remained in that column, while twenty-three "dry" towns remained "dry." The larger cities voting on the license question are Ashland, Superior, Beloit and Madison, which went "wet". Madison voted "wet" by 300.

"DRYS" TAKE 14 COUNTIES

Detroit Mich., April 7.—Complete unofficial returns from the sixteen Michigan counties in which local option was the issue in Monday's election show that the "drys" were successful in fourteen counties and the "wets" were victorious in two.

REPUBLICAN MAYOR

Peoria, Ill., April 7.—Edward N. Woodruff, Republican, who is completing his fourth term as mayor of Peoria, was re-elected yesterday by an estimated plurality of 7,000 votes. Ralph C. Lowes, law enforcement candidate, received approximately 5,800 votes, and James M. Shea, Democrat, received approximately 5,100. The entire Republican ticket was elected.

ADD THREE COUNTIES

Chicago, Ill April 7.—The "dry" forces voted 100 more saloons out of Illinois in the local option elections yesterday and by wiping out certain wet spots, added three counties to 52 already completely dry—a total of 55 counties out of 102 in the state.

Britishers Fall For Wrist Watch Craze And It Reigns Supreme There

BY MARGARET MASON

"Watch your step" may be a watchword

In the good old U. S. A. But its "watch your wrist" in London

Where you pass the time of day On every hand

Along the Strand

Piccadilly or Kingway.

London, Mar. 22. (By mail to New York)—These are pulsing times in England. Hence the wrist watch reigns supreme. Every blooming Britisher you meet has one up his sleeve. They're bound to hit—the States soon with an awful wallop. Oh yes, I know Harold and Clarence and the rest of the big boys have been wearing them for many months. But over here it is the big brave husky Johns that are sporting the wristlet ticktock as well as Cyril and Percival. It will probably take a big brave man to start the fad in New York too.

Like all the other new fashions nowadays the present wristlet watch is a result of the war. Unlike the majority of our fashions it has the distinction of possessing useful sensible necessary and, to say the least, timely characteristics as well as tocks.

The watches with the luminous dials and hands are especially handy for night wear. Their hands are tipped with phosphorus or radium as they lightly call it over here, and Tommy Atkins lying in the dark trenches instead of feeling the moments drag by with leaden feet can now watch them tick by with light hands. Every fighting man wears one of these illuminated and illuminating wristlet time pieces. They are part of his regular kit and built according to army specifications. They are neat, small, unadorned affairs of silver, gummatal nickel or gold to suit your whim or your pocketbook, and they are slipped into the narrow unobtrusive wrist strap of leather which fastens as securely and inconspicuously as possible. The straps of mouse grey undressed leather are perhaps the most popular as well as the best looking and you can become the proud possessor of one of these timely conceits for as little as one pound or five dollars of regular money.

Our American correspondents have already succumbed to the alluring charms of the wristlet watch and are bound to import them to our masculine midstand forearms.

Truly the American man fighting

his battles in the marts of trade, lying in the trenches of Wall St., needs a time limit on his pulse.

He ought to find one a great help also in midnight tango encounters, cross dance hall canterers and hesitation sorties. The bonvivant ought to revel in a wrist watch. Think of the cosy sociable feeling it would him to realize that even his little watch is all lit up, too.

Oh! the possibilities of the wrist watch in the U. S. A. are unlimited. Watch out for the American invasion of the same. Hands across the sea are all due to be all duded up in timely timepieces. A bird of a wrist-watch on the hand is worth two in the pocket. If you just once get the wristwatch fever in your blood its bound to show on your pulse.

As for the ladies, they are showing wristlet, watch effects that are most artistic. The most fascinating are tiny platinum diamond studded affairs, either square or hexagon in shape, and worn on narrow wristbands of black moire ribbon. These are much more effective than the gold bracelet settings although some lovely things are shown in the metal bracelet models. Especially exquisite in this style are the enamelled effects. Greys, goblin, and mauve shades are mostly exploited in the enamel and the black enamel in combinations with white or with brilliant is very smart for the ribbon set watches.

The narrow oval shaped wrist watches that we had last season in America are being used a great deal over here now but the model that is wound up to the very last second of novelty and at the same time second to none is the tiny inch or inch and a half square platinum watch on the wrist band of black moire.

Infinitesimal watches set in finger rings are another recent offering but as they are neither very practical or particularly beautiful they will undoubtedly soon fold their tiny hands and turn their two wee open faces to the wall of fashionable oblivion. There is a limit to time reduction and M.lady looking for a good time doesn't want her minutes too minute.

ISSUES BOOKLET ON ARBOR DAY

Superintendent Greathouse Sends Out Pamphlet Concerning Celebration for April 16

MANY THINGS ARE INCLUDED

Contributions by James Whitcomb Riley, Meredith Nicholson and Other Hoosier Writers.

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued a pamphlet on Arbor and Bird day, which is set for Friday, April 16. The proclamation of the Governor is included in the pamphlet, which contains, quotations from Indiana poets and authors and sample programs for use in the schools Arbor day.

James Whitcomb Riley, Meredith Nicholson, Evalene Stein and other Indiana writers have contributions in the pamphlet. Questions relating to trees and their care are included as guides to teachers. Adelaide Steele Baylor, of the state department of instruction, has written "Every Man's Creed" as a conclusion to the pamphlet.

It follows:

"I believe that nature never more truly loved mankind than when she surrounded him with beautiful trees, and filled those trees with singing birds, for I know that silent influence of majestic forests has carried the soul to unmeasured heights and a sweet melody from the throat of a thrush has softened a turbulent spirit and quickened humane impulses. "I believe in the nature and protection of every plant and every bird that can contribute to the comforts and delights of human kind.

"I believe that the preservation of our national life and our peaceful relation with other countries will be assured, when every human being in this great American nation beholds with a feeling of awe and reverence the giant oak of the forest and allows his soul to be swayed by the song of a bird, as he stands with bared head in God's great out-of-doors.

"I believe that the largest service any boy and girl, any man or woman can render nature for her bounty to us is in the protection and extension of these wonderful gifts.

"I am, therefore, resolved that I shall seek diligently to know more of the nature and habitats of birds and trees that I may learn to guard and protect them and thus become an instrument in making this world more beautiful and its natural products more useful to the people."

To the Business Men of Rushville

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Wooltex Tailored Suits and Coats in Fullest and Finest Assortments now

It is most gratifying to make the important selection of a new spring suit or coat while our collections of Wooltex garments are at their height; for naturally we cannot undertake to keep continuously in stock such a large variety of models as is now on exhibition.

Suit No. 1720
THE picture illustrates Wooltex suit No. 1720—a very effective youthful model, which is equally becoming to all slender women. The jacket is in Polo effect, moderately full, with smart pockets on both jacket and skirt. Materials are checks, poplin and covert.

Every day you wait shortens the time of service which the new garment will give you, and likewise every day you wait takes off something of the enjoyment of possessing the new styles while they are at their height.

Women who have been to see the Wooltex exhibition express their delight over the moderateness of the prices that are marked on garments of such excellence and refinement.

The hand-tailoring at the vital points in the apparel, which gives permanency to the shapeliness of the garment, is a Wooltex feature of added cost in the production, which it seems amazing to secure at such moderate prices.

If you have not yet seen our full spring exhibition of Wooltex garments, come at the first moment you can, whether you anticipate buying or not. An equally hearty welcome if you come only to see the new styles.

RELIGION FAILED ON HOLD-UP MAN

Church Board and Minister Take Chance on Bandit But he Comes Back at Them

WANTED MONEY FIRST TIME

(By United Press.)

Oklahoma City Okla., 9 April 7.—F. E. Hims walked into the study of Rev. Phil Baird where he and eight directors of the First Presbyterian church were holding a meeting. Nime pulled a pug-nosed gun from his pocket and said:

"Gentlemen, I have a very unpleasant duty to perform. I want your money and I want it quick."

Rev. Phil Baird walked deliberately up to the gun and said: "Wait, my dear man. You probably need money but I will help you get it honestly. I will get you a job."

Nime, a college man who later admitted having served time in a New York workhouse, wanted his money on the spot. He said he had not eaten food for twenty-four hours. When finally the minister had talked him into putting away the gun, the meeting took up Nime's case.

Every man present pledged himself to keep the facts secret to save Nime.

Nime broke his promise to the minister and also lost the job the elders obtained for him. A week later he appeared at a church entertainment with the same business-like gun. A second time they made him put away the weapon. But while Rev. Baird was willing to try religion on Nime again the elders called the police. That's how the story became public.

certified to the city by the county auditor.

The city decided to place an electric meter in the city treasurer's office. At present the city treasurer is getting his electricity through the meter of the county and the city did not think it fair for the county to pay the city's bill.

After several months of waiting George W. Young got his bond claims adjusted with the city and the claims were ordered paid. The claims were held up until the records were straightened out.

The superintendent of the water and light plant A. T. Mahin, last night recommended to the council that the electric light rates be reduced for the benefit of the small consumer, the person who uses electricity for lighting purposes in his residence. The council is said to have looked on the recommendation with favor, but took no steps toward acting on it. The reduction can be made, it is stated, without going before the state public service commission. The superintendent said the plant was in such a condition that the city could afford to reduce the rates.

The recommendation was that the rate be cut to eight cents a kilowatt maximum. The proposed rate would be eight cents for the first hundred kilowatts, seven cents for the second hundred and six cents for all over that. The present rate is ten cents for the first fifty kilowatts, nine cents for the next fifty, eight cents for the next fifty and six cents for all over that.

PROHIBITION IS LOST FOR PRESENT

British Cabinet Adjourns This Afternoon Without Reaching Definite Decision.

COMPROMISE IS PROBABLE

(By United Press.)

London, April 7.—Prohibition advocates lost all immediate hope for a "dry" England when the British cabinet adjourned an important conference late this afternoon without reaching a definite decision on prohibition.

It was given out that Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lloyd George, will confer Friday with representatives of the liquor interests. This conference, it is understood, will result in the drafting of a compromise measure to be submitted when parliament reassembles next week.

In nearly every quarter the announcement that Lloyd George would confer on a compromise was accepted as an admission of defeat by the Prohibition forces.

It was first reported to be wavering between Lloyd George's demand for drastic measures and pressure on the part of the big distilling and brewing interest for hands off. There was thought to be a possibility that the ban would be placed on all distilled liquors but that the sale of beer and light wines would not be interfered with.

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, April 7.—Russian armies, rolling down upon Hungary, have captured more than 60,000 Austrians and Germans in the past week of fighting in the Carpathians, according to figures furnished by the war office today.

An official statement announced that in the Baligrod-Uzok pass region alone the captives in seven days fighting totaled 389 officers and 33,155 men and that 17 cannon and 101 rapid firers as well as large quantities of ammunition had been taken. Westward in the fighting for the Lupkow pass an equal number of prisoners had been taken, the war office announced, but exact figures were not available today.

ORDINANCE TO PAVE IS PASSED

Council Takes Another Step Toward
Improvement of Second Street
From Beuna Vista.

PASS SPRINKLER ORDINANCE

Claims For Local Option Election,
Amounting to $337.70, Allowed
at Meeting.

The city council took another step towards paving West Second street, from Beuna Vista Avenue to the Pennsylvania railway, last night when the ordinance authorizing the paving was passed with only one dissenting vote. In passing the ordinance the council turned down the remonstrators completely, believing that the improvement is needed regardless of what three or four property owners might say. Bids for the paving will be received on April 29.

Several efforts have been made to pave Second street. Last spring a resolution was introduced for the improvement but it was postponed with the understanding that work would be done this spring. Because it was the intention of the city to pave the street, no repair work has been done there and the street now is one of the worst in Rushville. Because of the contemplated paving the council cut this street from the list of those to be oiled.

An ordinance appropriating $350 for the purchase of a street sprinkler was passed under suspension of the rules. The sprinkler was not purchased last night although a representative of the Studebaker company was present. The council decided to make the purchase next Monday night at which time there will be a special meeting for the letting of the street oiling contract.

The city allowed the claims of the local option election officials, with the exception of two sheriffs. The two sheriffs were cut $1.50 each to conform with the other sheriffs. The sheriffs that had their bill $1.50 too high were those in the fourth precinct. The total cost to the city of the election as allowed last night was $337.70. This included meals, house rent, election supplies and salaries of officials. The claims were

SAYS HIS REVENUE MUST BE INCREASED

A. M. Price Declares he Will Have to
Close Hitchrack Unless More
Money is Paid.

OF GREAT BENEFIT TO CITY

A. M. Price, custodian of the hitchrack, has told some persons that he would have to close the hitchrack the first of next month if his revenue was not increased because he could not afford to operate it at the wages he makes now. He states that there are a number of merchants who are not helping with the support. His rent was raised recently and he says he has to have three or four dollars more on the week anyway to keep the hitchrack open.

Many merchants feel that it would be a mistake to allow the hitchrack to close because it is of immense benefit to farmers who come here. On busy days in Rushville the rack can not accommodate all the people who want to hitch their horses there. Some effort will likely be made to increase the revenue for the custodian.

It is stated that two or three men have been making up the deficiency each week and thus have been bearing a much greater portion of the expense than others. It is felt that this is not fair for a few to have the burden of something that is beneficial to all of the business interests of Rushville.

RAIN HELPS BUT IT ISN'T ENOUGH

Farmers Are Hopeful For More
Moisture so That Crops Will
Not be Damaged.

GROWING WHEAT NEEDS IT

Little Rain That Fell Brightens Vegetation, But Considerably More
is Wanted.

The rain last night and early this morning was not as much as the farmers would like to have seen, but it was of some benefit. Evidence of the rain was to be seen here in Rushville because the moisture brightened up the grass and other vegetation.

The prediction is for more rain and farmers and truck gardeners are hopeful. They feel that it is about time for the weather man to deliver some moisture so that the crops will have a chance. The proverbial April showers are due, the kind that make May flowers, and farmers generally are looking forward to the time when the April showers will come with some regularity.

The wheat crop was never so badly in need of rain at this season as it is right now, according to reports from all over the county. March was an unusually dry month. There is, as a general rule, a heavy rainfall during the month which just closed.

In spite of the fact that moisture has been a scarce article in Rush county this spring, farmers say that they never saw the ground plow better than it has at this season for plowing. Even though the crops reveal the need of rain, the ground does not show it, they say.

It is said to be the case that the lack of moisture has not yet seriously affected the prospects of the wheat crop. The wheat acreage will be larger than common, this season it is said, because of the prospects of a wheat shortage due to the war last fall when the crop was put in, but still the crop in Rush county is not near the equal of what it used to be.

Farmers in the last few years have not been growing any more wheat than their land actually needed because it is not the paying crop that it once was. More attention is being paid to other grains.

Farmers report that it has been many years since as much plowing has been done in Rush county in the spring of the year.

ACCOUNT SUIT IN COURT TODAY

Jury Hears Case of J. E. Patton vs.
Jack Reed, Involving Sale of a
Cream Separator.

W. O. ANDREWS IS UP AGAIN

Judge Blair Overrules Motion For
New Trial in Case Which Has
Been Pending Year.

The account suit of John E. Patton against Jack Reed, involving the sale of a cream separator by Patton to Reed, was tried before a jury in the circuit court today. The case was expected to go to the jury late this afternoon. The amount demanded is $75.

In the complaint Patton alleges that he sold a Blue Bell cream separator to Reed for $55, and that Reed has refused to pay the bill. Reed maintains that the separator was guaranteed and did not perform the work that Patton claimed it would. Albert Stevens represents the plaintiff and A. L. Gary appeared for the defendant.

The jury hearing the case was as follows: Thomas C. Gray, E. J. Farthing, J. Ed Caldwell, James Spillman, Robert Kennedy, Elmer Caldwell, Robert Jarratt, T. Ed Medd, Joel Carson, Henry Addison, Charles E. Hall and R. B. Rhodes.

W. O. Andrews appeared this morning before special Judge B. F. Miller to answer contempt proceedings brought by his divorced wife, Hazel Andrews. A citation had been issued for Andrews when he failed to put in an appearance in court last Saturday. Judge Miller released Andrews under further orders of the court, providing he pays to the clerk of the court $5 on or before Saturday, April 17.

Judge Blair, while here yesterday, overruled a motion for a new trial in the case of the State of Indiana on the relation of Albert Greely, et al., against Alonzo and Raymond Hooten. The motion for a new trial has been pending for over a year. The suit was on an account regarding some stone placed on a road and sold by the Greely Stone company. The demand was $1,300 and the jury found for the defendants. It will be recalled that in the testimony in this case one man testified that he weighed some crushed stone and after adding some screening found that the stone weighed less than it did before the screenings were added. This is always remembered here as one of the funniest bits of evidence ever given in the Rush circuit court.

Judge Sparks found for James C. Dean and Samuel A. Webber against Roy Carr, returning a judgment for $85.60. The demand was $100 being based on a note. Carr defaulted and allowed the court to find against him.

NEW BUILDING ONLY SOLUTION

This is Opinion of County Commissioners After Inspecting Fayette County Infirmary.

IT IS BEING REMODELED NOW

The county commissioners, Edson Eakin, William Moore and P. A. Newhouse, were in Connersville yesterday where they inspected the buildings of the county poor farm. The Fayette county commissioners have plans under way to remodel the buildings and the contract will be let soon. The local board desired to get an idea of how the improvement was to be made in the hope of getting a line on how to proceed here. The commissioners have asked the county council for an appropriation of $30,000 with which to erect a new building but the council does not seem inclined to take the commissioners word for it and has asked that Amos Butler, secretary of the state board of charities, come here for a conference. The commissioners believed that they might be able to remodel the buildings like the Fayette county board plans to do, but after the inspection, believe that a new building will be the only solution to the trouble.

VILLA AND 12,000 MEN ARE CORNERED

Advices Received at Washington Indicate That Carranzistas May Capture Rebel Leader.

GREATEST BATTLE IMPENDS

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 7.—About 30,000 Carranzistas were believed by war department officials to have Villa and 12,000 men cornered thirty miles from Irapuato.

The department was without advices for 24 hours, but indications were that the two forces were on the eve of one of the Mexican revolutions, greatest battles.

Villa's capture was deemed a strong possibility. General Chao, who after failing to take Tampico last week, was not prompt enough in withdrawing and joining his leaders and was blamed for Villa's plight.

Villa's northeastern Mexican campaign was regarded by many officials here as having almost collapsed and his present position was declared perilous to the highest degree. General Obregon was understood to have taken the offensive. The Carranzistas were closing in on the trapped Villista army and indications were that only a miracle could save Villa.

243,797 WOMEN PARTICIPATE

Second Republican Mayor for Chicago Since 1897—Total Vote
Largest Ever Cast

(By United Press.)
Chicago, April 7.—The women—243,797 of them—voted just like any mere man voted in Chicago's municipal election, which today gave the "windy city" its second Republican mayor since 1897.

William H. Thompson was the winning candidate. Complete returns today gave him a plurality of 139,014 over Robert M. Sweitzer the Sullivan candidate who headed the Democratic ticket.

The total vote was 669,309, the largest ever cast in a city election in the United States. Thompson received 390,691; Sweitzer, 251,202; Seymour Stedman, Socialist, 23,826, and John H. Hill, Prohibition, 3,590. Republicans today insisted the Republican victory is a barometer of what the country is going to do in 1916.

Thompson owes much of his success to the women, who, for the first time, were permitted to vote for mayor. The returns indicate that he was given 66 per cent of the women's vote. His woman watchers and lieutenants worked unfalteringly in the tough wards, where they were subjected to the taunts and insults of river rats and the big floating population of hoboes and bums, whose only occupation during the year is that of voting. The women refused to be frightened away from their duty and stuck to the job until the votes were counted, sealed and delivered.

The big plurality given Thompson carries with him the entire Republican city ticket. This ticket was made up of Republicans, Progressives and Independents and the returns show that all these elements put in hard work.

Throughout the campaign the Thompson managers based many of their arguments to voters on the assertion that business and labor conditions throughout the country preaged a Republican victory. About 85 per cent of the 750,000 votes registered were cast. According to election officials this set a record.

Some wards hitherto considered strongly Democratic were carried by the Republican candidate and Sweitzer's own precinct in the heart of one of the West Side Democratic strongholds, was carried by Thompson, 300 to 228.

EVOLVES UNIQUE PLAN TO IMPROVE PUPILS' SPELLING IN CITY SCHOOLS

Superintendent Scholl Will Publish
in Newspapers Those Receiving
Perfect Grade.

KEEN COMPETITION AROUSED

A spirited competition in spelling has been aroused in the Rushville schools by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, the ultimate prize being that the names of the pupils who receive one hundred per cent, shall be published in the Rushville newspapers. The plan is a very unique one and is calculated to arouse much more interest as well as improve pupils in spelling.

Four weeks ago, the superintendent of schools gave to pupils of the fourth to the eighth grades inclusive a list of words which they were asked to learn. Each grade had one hundred and fifty words. On each Friday for three weeks twenty words selected from the words assigned to each grade were given for written spelling. The grades of rooms were tabulated, showing the number of pupils receiving 100 per cent, the number receiving 95 per cent and so on to the number receiving the lowest grades. Immediately after the first comparison of grades there was an effort to get into the 100 per cent class. First one room of a grade won over a like room of the same grade, then again the tables were turned, but the number of pupils receiving 100 per cent grew very rapidly. Averages for rooms from 95 to 99 per cent were the rule.

Commencing Friday of this week twenty words will be selected at random from the lists of 150 and the children will write the words. Those pupils receiving 100 per cent will have their names published in the city papers. This will be continued for three weeks the object being to get each pupil to be able to spell each word correctly. The words selected from each grade are words of common use but not easily spelled.

MUCH INDIANA SEED CORN BAD

G. I. Christie of Purdue Says Active Work on Part of Growers Will Be Required

TO GET GOOD STAND THIS YEAR

From 2 to 10 Ears in Every Hundred Either Dead or Very Low in Vitality

Much seed corn in Indiana farms is bad. To secure the necessary seed which amounts to more than eight hundred thousand bushels and which will germinate in a strong way giving a first class stand, will require active work on the part of Indiana corn growers.

In response to the query "What is the Condition of Your Seed Corn?" recently sent out by Professor G. I. Christie of Purdue Agricultural Extension Department, many hundreds of farmers have examined their seed and have found from two to ten ears in every hundred dead or so low in vitality that they are not fit for seed. Exhibits of corn at many shows have also shown low vitality. The hard freezes of the early winter caught many ears containing too much moisture. The time required to eliminate these dead or weak ears will be well spent and will show great returns in the crop.

This last season barren stalks in Indiana corn fields ranged from five to thirty percent. All barren stalks may not be the result of any one factor but it is felt that they are due in a large part to the planting of weak seed. These barren stalks furnish pollen to fertilize the grains on good ears which are used for the next year and which, if conditions are at all favorable, reproduce barren stalks.

Therefore, the planting of high class seed not only insures a good stand but it insures a higher percent of ear bearing stalks. It is estimated that about fourteen ears of corn are required to plant an acre. With a good average yield of seventy bushels, the seed from each ear will produce five bushels in the fall. Estimating corn at fifty cents, the product is worth two dollars and a half. When an ear of corn means so much farmers can afford to give the necessary time to germinate every individual ear. A little time and care now will mean many thousands of bushels of corn on Indiana farms next fall.

MAY FORCE JOKER UPON FARMERS

Author Must Concede on Railroad Fare Bill or Freak Measure Will Become Law

SOME OF PROVISIONS GIVEN

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—Because certain farmers had complained that they did not have friends in the legislature, Sen. E. J. Wetlake, of Minneapolis introduced a "joker" which he said today, he never hoped to pass. Now his political enemies threaten to get behind the bill and force it through with his name attached unless he gives certain concessions on a 24-cent railroad fare bill. Some of the provisions of the joker follow:

All bulls, on highways, must carry 50 pounds of bells, a steam whistle and an electric headlight of not less than 1,500 candle power. Cows shall not be permitted to give more than 50 quarts of milk a day. Sheds shall be built over all fields where hired men work in summer. Produce prices must not be increased without the consent of a commission. Eight hours shall constitute a hired man's day. He shall not work any Sunday or holiday. Wagon's single and double trees shall be equipped with automatic couplers, relieving the necessity of hired men going behind horses to make a coupling.

FEAR NO WHEAT SHORTAGE HERE

Department of Agriculture Has it Figured Out That One Million Bushels a Day Can be Shipped

NO DOUBT AS TO HIGH PRICE

Peach Industry is Rapidly Making Strides 39 States Out of 48 Raising Them For Market

(By United Press.) Washington, Apr. 7.—That 1,000,000 bushels of wheat a day can be exported until July 1, in addition to supplying this country's needs, is the reassuring statement from the Agricultural Department. Before July 1, the department points out, the new wheat will be coming in, as there need be no fear of a shortage which will actually deprive the people of this country of bread.

Had it not been for the war, with the closing of the Dardanelles, which locked up Russia's surplus, and had it not been for a world's shortage outside of the United States, estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, the farmers of the United States, instead of selling their wheat at high prices, would really be in a serious condition, the Department experts say. They would be looking eagerly for buyers of their wheat, with prices probably way down below the cost of production.

The 1914 crop of the United States was estimated at 891,000,000 bushels. In addition to this it was estimated that the amount of wheat carried over from the 1913 crop was 76,000,000 bushels, so that there was on hand a total of about 967,000,000 bushels. The normal consumption of wheat in this country is about 5.3 bushels, so that it would require 520,000,000 bushels to supply food requirements of the United States, besides about 90,000 bushels needed for seed.

So that the surplus remaining for export was, roughly, 357,000,000 bushels. On January 30 about 210,000,000 bushels had been exported, which left at that time, 40,000,000 more bushels available for export than the average at that time during the last five years.

So that Mr. Farmer, much as he may deplore the war and the slaughter, may at least be thankful that something prevented him from finding himself with what would have almost been a drug on the market on his hands. Instead he finds himself with the highest price in years for his big money crop.

How general the peach industry has become is brought out strongly in a bulletin just issued by the Department of agriculture, in which it was shown that 39 of the 48 states have peach orchards of commercial importance. It was pointed out that peaches do well on a wide range of types of soil including even some of the moderately heavy clay loams and clays. A prime requisite, however is that the soil be well drained. Peaches will not grow successfully on poorly drained soils while requiring fairly fertile soil, peach trees do not particularly require a very large amount of nitrogen. Soil very rich in nitrogen is not to be desired as a general rule, since it is likely to induce an excessive growth of foliage. Alkali soils are not suitable for peaches, though a small amount of alkali will not be necessarily dangerous. It is safer, however, to avoid them as a general rule as far as possible.

Ground that is higher than the surrounding country is usually desirable for peach orchards, since frosts are not so likely to injure the trees. Height above sealevel is not so important in this particular as height above the surrounding country, on account of the tendency of cold air to settle to the lowest levels. Danger of frost is also minimized if the peach orchards are near a large body of water. Due to the fact that water in large bodies warms up more slowly in the spring than the nearby land it has a tendency to check early blossoming, with the result that there is less danger of frost destroying the

WHY WE HAVE NEVER USED THEM

We are frequently asked, "Why do you not give Trading Stamps?" We take this method of informing the public on this point.

The great fundamental reason is that we are fully persuaded their use is a positive hindrance to the highest degree of efficiency in service to our patrons. We believe the Trading Stamp as operated today is a Humbug and a Fraud, because of its false pretense of being of Value to the merchant and his customer. We say it is of value to neither of these parties, and can be of value only to Stamp Companies issuing them, and therefore is wrong and must be abolished.

We believe, when you figure the entire cost of waste of time and other incidental expenses, the rate per cent of cost is prohibitive to the merchant, unless used to obtain an increased rate of profit on his sales.

We believe the customer, the collector of these stamps, who stops to ponder on the time used to gather them, and the meager return in value for this time, will conclude as we do, that his or her share of the family gross receipts can not be earned by using their time where the pay is so slight.

crop after a few warm days.

In the fall frosts are delayed in a similar manner, because the large body of water having absorbed much heat during the summer, cools off in the fall more slowly than the atmosphere, and hence tends to keep the temperature within its zone of influence warmer than it would otherwise be.

As a rule, however, the zone of influence of such a body of water does not extend more than a few miles back from the shore line.

A careful accounting system applied to 24 Iowa farms by men known to be careful and experienced feeders of cattle show conclusively that the practice of following cattle with hogs is profitable, except possibly when young cattle in large numbers are fed on ground corn and the cost of grinding is very low, says a bulletin just issued by the Department of Agriculture. The best authorities believe that with the present narrow margin on fat cattle it is inadvisable to feed without hogs.

On the 24 Iowa farms in question, during the feeding year beginning in the fall of 1909, the average profit on 961 cattle fed in bunches was $2.05 per head, not counting the profit on the hogs following them. "The prices received for the cattle were very satisfactory. The 1504 hogs following these steers, and which were given extra grain, were sold in the spring of 1910 with a profit of $6.07 per hog, which if credited to the steers, gave a profit of $12.49 per steer. In the following feeding year, 1910-11, prices were unsatisfactory and this caused a loss of 78 cents per head on 1138 cattle fed on 28 farms. The 1646 hogs following these steers however, returned an average profit of $3.33 and when this profit was credited to the steers there was a net profit of $4.04 per steer."

It's Underwear This Time

—Says Mr. Wise

Thought better mention this subject early before you purchased some elsewhere and found out about our "VASSAR" Underwear later—we know you would be sorry.

Here's the reason—

While "Vassar" Union Suits are being knit (each suit separately, remember), the cuffs and anklets are automatically knit on, without a seam. In most suits, you know, these cuffs and anklets are sewed on—and there is bound to be a seam, however well they are sewed.

Here then, we have a garment that is fashioned to shape in the knitting—has selvedge edges throughout, and has cuffs and anklets knit and not sewed on.

But there's still another and most important distinguishing feature of Vassar Union Suits in the Swiss Rib fabric. This form of knitting gives the highest possible degree of elasticity—the kind that "comes back" as well as stretches out. This fabric in connection with the shaping in the knitting is largely responsible for the perfect fitting of Vassar suits.

As the machine on which these suits are made are controlled exclusively by the Vassar Company, it is impossible to find a combination of these features in any other line.

It is hardly necessary to state here that only the best materials are used.

It is a little early yet for swimming in the river but there is no way against thinking about it.

DRAMATIC CHAT.

New York, April 7.—Letters to me from friends in "dear old Lannun" declare that American plays, particularly late Broadway hits, and American players are decidedly "Vogue." At least a half dozen past and present successes here are now playing in London to capacity houses, despite the depression of the war.

A Londonese tinge is given in dramatic critiques. I have received the following on the comedy "Excuse Me" which is playing at the Garrick:

"Considering that the passengers (in a Pullman) are together for four days it will be readily understood that much may happen, especially in such a go-ahead country as America."

"Go-ahead country" just fancy! Then the critic goes on to say:

Mr. Willis Sweetman, a comedian of high repute in New York, has crossed the Atlantic to play his original character of the train attendant, or porter, a colored gentleman of much drollery."

Other Broadway successes now playing in London are "The Girl in the Taxi," "Raffles," "Are You a Mason," and even "Florodora." Sir Charles Wyndham will also shortly produce the farce "Seven Days." "Twin Beds" is also to be produced there soon.

Easter week is to witness the launching of a new musical comedy "Nobody Home" along the new lines of being minus a chorus. Oh! yes, there will be plenty of pretty girls, according to advance notices, but they will not be "chorus" girls. Instead they will be called principals. It is announced that they will all have distinct parts and will "wander about" the stage instead of acting in concerted numbers. Miss Elizabeth Marbury will lead the company at the Princess.

McIntyre and Heath's tour has been extended in bookings to the middle of May.

Following historic custom many Broadway houses closed yesterday in observance of Good Friday.

Charles Frohman is preparing to launch a new, and what is declared a "real," war play. "The Hyphen" is the name of the piece, which was snapped up hurriedly by Frohman upon being offered by a comparatively obscure playwright. Because of its timeliness it was prepared for immediate production.

The advance sale for "Sinners" at William A. Brady's playhouse has been advanced to July 1.

Easter Monday will witness the premier of "The Yeomen of the Guard" with De Wolf Hopper doing yeoman service as the star. The Gilbert and Sullivan opera will, however, be sung one week in New York, in order so that remaining features of the repertoire may be given in measure with the demand. The engagement here is for a month.

BELIEVED IT WILL INTERNE.

Norfolk Va., April 7.—The commander of the German concerted cruiser Prinz Eitel Freidrich, it was believed today, had notified the federal authorities she will interne. Official confirmation was lacking. The vessel was still at anchor.

(By United Press.) John Day, Ore., April 7.—Juvenile wrath grew hot when principal E. S. Stutz of the John Day Grammar school ruled that "m-u-l-l-e-e-i-n" is the correct spelling. It came out at a recent orthographical contest. Next-day the adherents of "mullen" waylaid Stutz, bombarded him with eggs and drove him back to his boarding house. Parental apologies followed as many spankings and Professor Stutz has agreed to referee another spelling bee.

More News Piracy.

The Tuesday edition of the American contained seventeen headed articles clipped from the columns of the Daily Republican, and none from the Jacksonian. This, of course, does not include the long list of personals and locals which were reprinted.

Financing New Freedom.

An index to the fiscal chronicle of the Wilson administration the New York Sun believes, would run something like the following tabulated form:

1. Treasury net balance, $166,000,000.
2. Ordinary revenues offset ordinary expenditures.
3. Tariff revised drastically downward.
4. Income tax law passed.
5. Deficiency in revenues.
6. Record appropriations by congress.
7. Emergency war tax levied.
8. More record breaking appropriations.
9. Revenue deficiency grows.
10. Treasury's impending bankruptcy discussed.
11. Government bond sales in prospect.

Although the total appropriations of the sixty-third congress, which finished its labors recently, were $177,000,000 larger than the aggregate appropriations of the sixty-first congress, the last one controlled in both branches by the Republicans, they were still $83,000,000 less than the estimates of expenditures submitted by the New Freedom directors. The balance in the treasury is hovering around $40,000,000, and is more the represented by treasury holdings of silver and of fractional currency. The actual treasury deficit at the end of next June promises to be anywhere from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 or more.

The New Freedom evidently comes high, but if we must have it, we have got to pay for it.

No Demand for Fights

The Huntington Herald calls attention to the fact that there is a vast difference between interest in and approval of a prize fight. There isn't any doubt but that a prize fight is the most brutal form of sport ever indulged in by Americans. The mere fact that the fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard attracted the attention of nearly every person who reads newspapers does not necessarily mean that every person who displayed any interest whatever in the fight approved of it. It has not been proved that there is a demand for prize fights in the United States. One fact alone that the gate receipts were under $50,000—when it is considered that the promoters announced in advance that the seat sale amounted to $100,000—indicates a waning interest. Additional interest was lent, too, to the fight at Havana the other day before it was a battle to regain the championship for the white race.

Cause for High Wheat

The United States department of agriculture says that if Russia's surplus wheat crop had not been bottled up in the Black Sea, and that if there had not been a world shortage, estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, the farmers of the United States, "instead of selling their wheat at high prices, would really be in a serious condition and would be looking for buyers of their wheat, with prices probably way down below the cost of production."

The department goes on to say that the crop of the United States was estimated at 891,000,000 bushels and that in addition to this there were 76,000,000 bushels carried over from the 1913 crop, so that there was on hand a total of 967,000,000 bushels. The normal consumption of wheat in this country is 5.3 bushels, so that it would require 520,000,000 bushels to supply the needs of the United States, not counting 90,000,000 bushels for seed. Then the surplus remaining for export was near 357,000,000 bushels. Of this amount 210,000,000 bushels had been sent abroad January 30, which was 40,000,000 bushels for export than is usually available at that time for the same purposes.

So the farmer who is thanking the Democratic administration for the dollar-and-a-half wheat had better stop and reconsider. If it were not for the throat cutting that is going on in Europe, he would probably not be receiving much for his wheat crop. We do not suppose, of course, that our Democratic friends will claim any credit for the high price of wheat.

What of the Treasury?

Under the last Republican administration there were 26 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

Last year, under a Democratic machine administration, there were 46 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

The other day this department of the state government was "reorganized" under the direction of a Democratic administration, and there are now 58 deputy oil inspectors on the Indiana payroll.

This is only one of hundreds of reasons why Indiana is forced to borrow money at a burdensome rate to meet expenses under a Democratic administration.

Considerable praise is due the present board of county commissioners for their efforts to beautify the court house lawn. The trees which have been planted will make of the lawn a different place entirely once a few years growth has been added on to them, and with the co-operation of the custodian, who has planted a few flower beds, the barrenness of the lawn will be removed and it will be an oasis in a desert, surrounded by hot brick pavements, as it is.

Plenty of Men.

(Richmond Palladium.)

About the time Contractor T. J. Connell and his foremen were frantically informing two hundred or three hundred applicants for jobs on cement roadway construction work on South Twenty-third street that no additional laborers were required, the man responsible for the landslide of job hunters, Albert Mox, a dismissed foreman, was in city court listening to the prosecutor read an affidavit charging him with public intoxication. Mox drew a line of $1 and costs.

Yesterday morning Mox, who said he was "taking a day off" and was hunting for men to work on South Twenty-third street, appeared at police headquarters and asked Chief Goodwin if he would not inform all the homeless men who sleep in the basement of the city building that they could get jobs by applying to him Saturday morning. At that time it was suspected that the man had been drinking a little but there were no indications that he was drunk.

PROSPECTS ARE NOT GOOD

Candidates for Places on Democratic

Ticket are Said to be Few and Far Between

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—Since United States Senator John W. Kern returned to Indiana from Washington it is said his close advisors have been making a careful survey of the political situation throughout the state and it is said that they are now in possession of enough information to cause them to realize that they are whipped to a standstill a year in advance of the opening of the 1916 campaign. Kern, himself, according to reports, is very much dejected over the reports that have come to him, "There are too many people in Indiana hammering business," is the remark that is credited to have been made recently by one of Kern's close political lieutenants.

When Kern made his winning campaign for the senate back in 1910 the burden of his whole speeches was an attack on the high cost of living. Kern was very sarcastic in his reference to food prices under a Republican administration. He had much to say regarding "forty cent bacon" and he kept hammering away at this topic from the opening to the close of that campaign and it was the judgment of observing politicians that this line of talk by Kern had a most important bearing on the result at the election.

However, there are indications at this time that when Kern again takes the stump as a senatorial candidate his 1910 promises to lower the cost of living will be recalled to his discomforts. Under a Democratic administration wages have been reduced but not the cost of living, and thousands of industrious workingmen have been thrown out of employment by the operations of a Democratic tariff law. These facts will place Mr. Kern on the defensive from the start and it will be generally recalled that "on the defensive means on the run."

Another thing that has helped that the atmosphere in the Kern camp a pronounced shade of blue is the fact that candidates for places on the Democratic ticket are few and far between. Months ago it looked like there might be sharp and spirited contests for every place on the Democratic state ticket but for some reason or other things have changed since last election day. Men who, before election, were full fledged candidates have backed away. In the Democratic camp at this time there is a choice collection of "cold feet" as was ever placed on exhibition. The passage of a primary law has not helped matters in the least. The truth of the matter is that the would-be Democratic office seekers realize full well that there is not a chance in the world to defeat the Republican state ticket next year and not many of them are consumed with a desire to conduct an expensive campaign simply for the empty honor or the fun of it. Of course, this attitude on the part of men who had been listed as prospective candidates has helped to dishearten Kern and has close camp followers.

Another thing that is causing a lot of worry among the Democratic politicians is the unprecedented activity of Republicans throughout Indiana. Not a week passes that a big Republican meeting is not held in some part of the state. Haven't heard of many Democratic love feasts having been held during the past three months have you? The explanation is found in the fact that there is no interest and enthusiasm even among the professional Democratic politicians and when the so-called leaders are ready to give up long before the battle is on how pronounced must be the lethargy among the rank and file of the party! Privately, there are few well posted Democratic politicians in the state who will not admit that "the stuff is off with us." One man holding a job under the state administration predicted to a friend the other day that the next Republican candidate for the presidency would receive between ten and eleven million votes.

There are a hundred Democratic reasons why the Kern crowd is despondent over the outlook and fully that many Republican reasons.

A "Business" Revival.

In an editorial published in the Wall Street Journal some eight years ago, and republished many thousands of times by English speaking newspapers all over the world (perhaps oftener than any other production of the kind), it was pointed out that a decline in religious belief was a serious matter for the business of this or any country.

It was advanced then, and the proposition is now repeated, that any man engaged in commerce would prefer to do business with one who sincerely believed in God, and responsibility in a future life for errors committed during his little time on earth, than with one who believed in nothing. To put it in the holdest form, the insurance risk would be less. Such a man would try to keep his contract, not because he feared the courts or the police, but because he believed himself responsible to the highest court of all.

Not long ago it was pointed out in these columns that one of the effects of the war might be a widespread religious revival. There is a difference, not of degree but of kind, between the man who sincerely believes in something and the man who doubts everything. I would be wrong to say that the form of his belief does not matter. But if he is sincere it is better to believe something than nothing. Perhaps ninety-ninths of the evils from which we suffer are beyond the reach of statutory law. But they are all susceptible to amendment of conscience through the mercy of God.

There is every sign that such a religious revival is developing; and if this is the case, it is of infinite concern to business men. Even such movements as are inaugurated by spectacular evangelists, who preach down to their hearers rather than up to God, are significant. If that sort of froth or scum is apparent on the surface, there is a movement of greater depth and potency below. In this direction lies reform, because the only real reform starts in the individual heart, working outward to popular manifestation through corporations, societies and legislatures.

Here, then, is the better remedy, and a better promise for future business managed under the best standards of honor and humanity, than anything congress can enact, or the department of justice can enforce. Here is a movement which renders investigation committees unnecessary, which brings employer and employee together on the common platform of the love and fear of God. This is the promise of the future, and, it is something which Providence in its infinite mercy grants us, to assuage the wickedness and misery of war.

If this great thing emerges from the terrible conflict now in progress, if thereby here shall be created peoples sober, reverent, industrious, forbearing and not deficient in that wholesome sense of humor which is bred of pity and humanity, we may say that in spite of ourselves, through the goodness of God war is not all loss.

ART EXHIBIT IS TO BE HELD HERE

Group of Pictures Sent Out by Indiana University Will be on Display at Graham School.

PURPOSE OF THE EXHIBIT

A series of pictures known as "The Third Exhibit of Pictures," from Indiana university, will be on exhibition at the Graham school building from April fourteenth to the twenty-first. It will be announced in time when the exhibit will be ready for the inspection of the public.

This is in keeping with a plan of the state university of visual instruction by lending art collections to the schools of Indiana a week at a time. Several series are now being sent to the schools throughout Indiana. The object is to teach pupils and the public how to understand and appreciate art. It is believed that a small collection of good pictures thoughtfully examined will far outweigh great galleries in usefulness to pupils in the study of pictures. The pictures to be seen in the exhibit here will be:

"The Parson's Daughter," Romney photograph; "Mer de Glace," Turner, A mezzo-tint engraving; "Columbus," Turner, line engraving; "Windmill," Crome, photograph from painting; "A Mill," Constable, mezzo-tint engraving; "King Cophetua and the Beggar Maid," Burne-Jones, photograph from painting; "Agrippa Bringing the Ashes of Germanicus to Rome For Burial," Turner; "Rembrandt," Holland, an original etching; "Angels Appearing to the Shepherds," Linnell, drawing in pencil; "Spanish Monk on Mule," Lewis, water color; "Portrait," Velasquez, copy; "Jonquills," Mower, painting; "South Sea Island Dancers," La Farge, pencil drawing; "A Jug With Flowers," Hunt drawing; "Boy With Sword," Manet, photograph from painting; "Galahad the Deliverer," Abbey painting; "Age of Innocence," Reynolds, photograph from painting, and "Perdita," Gainsborough, portrait.

DETROIT WILL HAVE SPEEDWAY

Patterned After Indianapolis Vast Oval Will Have Seating Capacity of 300,000

FIRST RACE ON LABOR DAY

Will be Built on 350 Acre Tract.
Reached by Six Roads, Four Steam Lines and 2 Electric

(By United Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Apr. 7.—The largest amphitheatre in the world is to be located in Detroit. Construction of the Detroit Motor Speedway, on a 350-acre lot fronting on the Detroit river, within ten miles of the city, already has been started, and contracts provide for its completion by August 1 next. On Labor Day, a 500 mile automobile race for a $75,000 purse, sanctioned by the American Association, will be staged on the new oval.

The Harvard Bowl, the Polo Grounds, New York, Brooklands, England the Yale Stadium, and other famous enclosures will be far outdone by the local speedway, which will have a capacity for more than 300,000 people.

Officials of the speedway company declare the track will be the fastest in the world. It will be made of concrete and will embody all of the proven principles of construction that have earned for the Brooklands track in England the reputation of being the fastest oval in the world.

The course proper will be two and one half miles in length, with a width of 90 feet.

Four minor stands, calling for a combined capacity of 100,000 will flank the river side of the vast oval. The main stand, with its two bowers, will seat an additional 40,000 persons, while accessory boxes will care for 19,000 more. The infield, with its free parking privileges, and an immense pavilion, will be almost limitless in their accommodations.

Six roads—four steam railroads and two electric lines—pass directly by the speedway site, giving it unexcelled transportation facilities.

John B. Whelan, former United States collector of customs at Detroit, is president of the speedway company.

CONTRACT LET FOR GRAND STAND

Elisah Williams is the Successful Bidder and Work Will Start at Once.

COST WILL BE NEAR $1,000

Main Wing Will Rest on Bank Along Road and When Completed It Will Seat 800.

The board of directors of the Rush County Amusement association awarded the contract for the building of the grand stand to Elisabeth Williams and work will start at once. Contractor Williams agrees to have the stand ready for the opening game of the season April 25 and on this date the new stand and grounds will be thrown open to the public for the first time.

The grand stand will be a credit to the city and will be built from the plans of Harvey D. Allen, architect. The stand will be big and there will be plenty of room. Contractor Williams was the low bidder. In all a total of 7 bids were received. The stand will cost around a thousand dollars and when completed the directors feel that their efforts will be appreciated by the public as the stand will be the best that the city ever had.

The stand will be in twelve sections and will seat 800. The main wing will rest on the bank along the road. The main support of the seats will be spaced 14 feet center to center and will rest on concrete bases. The stand will contain a floor and the roof will be covered with paper roofing. The stand will be built with the idea of comfort to the fans and in putting this much money in a grand stand the directors believe that the public will better support baseball if it knows that there is a nice clean roomy grand stand.

The contractor expected to start work this afternoon and from now on things will hum at the South Main street lot. As soon as the lumber is on the grounds the work of preparing the diamond will start. It has been decided to have a sod diamond. The base lines will be filled with clay and it is believed that the diamond when completed will be as fast as any in this section of the state.

Some of the stock subscribed is yet unpaid and the directors desire that an early settlement be made. There is about $300 outstanding and Treasurer Hackman would be glad to see those that owe for stock. This money is needed and an effort will be made to collect it.

THEY OCCUPY TWO SEPARATE FIELDS

Attorney General Says Federal and State Narcotic Laws Are Not Conflicting.

GIVES OPINION TO HURTY

Attorney General Milburn has given to Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, an interpretation of both the Federal and state anti-narcotic laws. He holds that each law occupies a separate field and that there is little or no conflict between them. His opinion follows:

Retail pharmacists have no authority upon an order to sell the drugs at wholesale to other pharmacists, physicians, dentists or veterinarians. It is lawful for such persons to buy at wholesale from wholesale jobbers and manufacturers. Reports must be made under the state law to the secretary of the Indiana board of pharmacy. Under the Federal law reports do not have to be made to Federal authorities, but all orders and prescriptions, under the Federal law, must be preserved for two years and be readily accessible to Federal authorities.

Representative Borland Would Let People Vote To Change Constitution

(Written for United Press.)

Washington, Apr. 7.—Representative William F. Borland of Missouri is not one of those who believes in the bromide pronouncement, "What we need is less law-making not more of it." He believes, rather, the contrary.

"It is not a bad sign," he says, "that such a universal appeal is made by the American public to Congress for legislation upon every conceivable subject from religion or the price of bread to how much powder a woman should use on her face before marriage."

But he was talking about the constitution when he said it and talking seriously on the question of whether amending that document now and then is a good thing or otherwise.

"Can we be certain," Rep. Borland asked, "that our governmental institution will remain rigid and static because we do not amend the written charter?"

Answering himself he said, "We can be sure of the reverse. Government is a progressive science. It cannot stand still. It must develop and grow with civilization and the advance of public opinion. An attempt to keep governmental institutions static is like binding the limbs of a growing child."

"Our Federal system has grown in an astonishing degree since the Civil War. Whether this growth has been constitutional or extra constitutional is a question that the wisest lawyer would not attempt to solve. For exactly 100 years—that is from the forming of the Constitution in 1887—every Federal official, every judge and more than 90 per cent of our lawyers and legislators believed that the clause of the Constitution giving the Federal Government jurisdiction over commerce between the several states was purely negative and restrictive in its operations. The clause had never been evoked as the basis of affirmative legislation by Congress. Its effects was supposed to be fully exhausted in preventing discriminatory laws by the several states which would interfere with the natural course of commerce."

"In 1887 Congress passed the first feeble experimental draft of the interstate commerce law providing for an affirmative control over one of the greatest channels of commerce. In the quarter of a century that has followed the enactments on the subject of interstate commerce have been so numerous and so far-reaching as to defy legal classification and analysis."

"The Federal government not only regulates rates; terms and conditions of service; safety of passengers and employees expenditures, organization and accounts of transportation companies; payment of damages to shippers equipment and construction of cars; but it passes upon the character and quality of goods that are to be carried; it prohibits entirely traffic in certain classes of commodities it controls the packing and handling of poisons and explosives and imposes a multitude of restrictions."

"The pure food law prevents a man carrying a can of beans across a state line unless it is marked 'United States Inspected.' Scarcely an article can be bought in either a drug store or a corner grocery that does not bear the O. K. of Uncle Sam."

"Two people of the opposite sex cannot travel together from one state to another until the Government is satisfied they carry no importer intent in their minds."

"This remarkable expansion of the interstate commerce clause is but one example of the widening sweep of our Constitution. I might instance many others—the construction of the Panama Canal; the socialization of Alaska, by which the government becomes a vast proprietor, improving and developing a commercial property; the irrigation projects of the West and more recently the water power projects by which the government becomes a public service corporation engaged in constructing and operating a public utility."

"The temptation at the present time is to find somewhere in the four corners of the constitution power for the federal government to do anything which seems to be beneficial at the particular time. I do not complain of this. I believe in it. Our conception of the powers and functions of government increase with our growing confidence in our country."

"I think we should frankly acknowledge that changes may still be made in our Constitution, the powers of our government enlarged and its control put more strictly into the hands of the people without serious injury to our institutions. Public opinion once thoroughly formed and crystallized into a settled conviction will find a way of expressing itself."

"It would have been a blessed thing for this country if Congress had had the courage or the wisdom to submit the 13th amendment, abolishing slavery, in 1850, at the time California applied for admission. It might have been a generation to have secured the adoption of the amendment by the requisite number of states, but it would eventually have been done, and would have saved untold blood and treasure, while producing in the end exactly the same results."

"There is but one way to tell whether the people want the Constitution amended and that is to let them vote on it. The way to preserve the Constitution and to make it really American is to keep it constantly adapted to the best thought of the American nation."

CHANGE IN FARE IS AUTHORIZED

Action of State Commission on T. H.

I. & E. Petition Indicates I.
& C's Will be Granted.

THE SAME REQUEST IS MADE

The fact that the state public service commission has granted the petitions of the Union Traction Company of Indiana and the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company—the latter just allowed yesterday—to place the "copper zone" system of charging passenger fares in effect, indicates that the commission will grant a similar petition, now pending, which was filed by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company. The charge on the T. H. I. & E. goes in effect May 1st.

The petition from the company has been pending before the commission for some time. Many other interurban lines of the state have followed the lead of the Union Traction Company of Indiana, the first to petition for authority to adopt the new system.

Commissioners say the increases in fares allowed the roads under the new system practically are negligible, when compared with the total incomes of the roads.

ceded the election to the Republicans early in the evening and left their headquarters.

Fifteen minutes after the polls closed, MacLay Horne, Democratic state's attorney, notified Thompson of a plot to withhold several precincts in the large Democratic wards and alter the figures so as to elect Sweitzer. Squads of detectives were hurried immediately into the suspected districts and the officials warned not to withhold the returns.

The day was marked by much disorder and violence in a small way. Expecting bloodshed and riots, the police department and the state attorney's office had taken unusual precautions and incipient riots were promptly nipped.

Britishers Fall For Wrist Watch Craze And It Reigns Supreme There

BY MARGARET MASON

"Watch your step" may be a watchword

In the good old U. S. A. But its "watch your wrist" in London

Where you pass the time of day On every hand Along the Strand Piccadilly or Kingway.

London, Mar. 22. (By mail to New York)—These are pulsing times in England. Hence the wrist watch reigns supreme. Every blooming Britisher you meet has one up his sleeve. They're bound to hit—the States soon with an awful wallop. Oh yes, I know Harold and Clarence and the rest of the big boys have been wearing them for many months. But over here it is the big brave husky Johns that are sporting the wristlet ticktock as well as Cyril and Percival. It will probably take a big brave man to start the fad in New York too.

Like all the other new fashions nowadays the present wristlet watch is a result of the war. Unlike the majority of our fashions it has the distinction of possessing useful sensible necessary and, to say the least, timely characteristics as well as tocks.

The watches with the luminous dials and hands are especially handy for night wear. Their hands are tipped with phosphorus or radium as they lightly call it over here, and Tommy Atkins lying in the dark trenches instead of feeling the moments drag by with leaden feet can now watch them tick by with light hands. Every fighting man wears one of these illuminated and illuminating wristlet time pieces. They are part of his regular kit and built according to army specifications. They are neat, small, unadorned affairs of silver, gunmetal nickel or gold to suit your whim or your pocketbook, and they are slipped into the narrow non-obtrusive wrist strap of leather which fastens as securely and inconspicuously as possible. The straps of mouse grey undressed leather are perhaps the most popular as well as the best looking and you can become the proud possessor of one of these timely conceits for as little as one pound or five dollars of regular money.

Our American correspondents have already succumbed to the alluring charms of the wristlet watch and are bound to import them to our masculine midland forearms.

Truly the American man fighting

his battles in the marts of trade, lying in the trenches of Wall St., needs a time limit on his pulse.

He ought to find one a great help also in midnight tango encounters, cross dance hall canterers and hesitation sorties. The bonvivant ought to revel in a wrist watch. Think of the cosy sociable feeling it would him to realize that even his little watch is all lit up, too.

Oh! the possibilities of the wrist watch in the U. S. A. are unlimited. Watch out for the American invasion of the same. Hands across the sea are all due to be all duded up in timely timepieces. A bird of a wrist-watch on the hand is worth two in the pocket. If you just once get the wristwatch fever in your blood its bound to show on your pulse.

As for the ladies, they are showing wristlet, watch effects that are most artistic. The most fascinating are tiny platinum diamond studded affairs, either square or hexagon in shape, and worn on narrow wristbands of black moire ribbon. These are much more effective than the gold bracelet settings although some lovely things are shown in the metal bracelet models. Especially exquisite in this style are the enamelled effects. Greys, gobein, and mauve shades are mostly exploited in the enamel and the black enamel in combinations with white or with brilliant is very smart for the ribbon set watches.

The narrow oval shaped wrist watches that we had last season in America are being used a great deal over here now but the model that is wound up to the very last second of novelty and at the same time second to none is the tiny inch or inch and a half square platinum watch on the wrist band of black moire.

Infinitesimal watches set in finger rings are another recent offering but as they are neither very practical or particularly beautiful they will undoubtedly soon fold their tiny hands and turn their two wee open faces to the wall of fashionable oblivion. There is a limit to time reduction and M. lady looking for a good time doesn't want her minutes too minute.

ISSUES BOOKLET ON ARBOR DAY

Superintendent Greathouse Sends Out Pamphlet Concerning Celebration for April 16

MANY THINGS ARE INCLUDED

Contributions by James Whitcomb Riley, Meredith Nicholson and Other Hoosier Writers.

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued a pamphlet on Arbor and Bird day, which is set for Friday, April 16. The proclamation of the Governor is included in the pamphlet, which contains, quotations from Indiana poets and authors and sample programs for use in the schools Arbor day.

James Whitcomb Riley, Meredith Nicholson, Evalene Stein and other Indiana writers have contributed to the pamphlet. Questions relating to trees and their care are included as guides to teachers. Adelaide Steele Baylor, of the state department of instruction, has written "Every Man's Creed" as a conclusion to the pamphlet.

It follows:

"I believe that nature never more truly loved mankind than when she surrounded him with beautiful trees, and filled those trees with singing birds, for I know that silent influence of majestic forests has carried the soul to unmeasured heights and a sweet melody from the throat of a thrush has softened a turbulent spirit and quickened humane impulses. "I believe in the nature and protection of every plant and every bird that can contribute to the comforts and delights of human kind.

"I believe that the preservation of our national life and our peaceful relation with other countries will be assured, when every human being in this great American nation beholds with a feeling of awe and reverence the giant oak of the forest and allows his soul to be swayed by the song of a bird, as he stands with bared head in God's great out-of-doors.

"I believe that the largest service any boy and girl, any man or woman can render nature for her bounty to us is in the protection and extension of these wonderful gifts.

"I am, therefore, resolved that I shall seek diligently to know more of the nature and habits of birds and trees that I may learn to guard and protect them and thus become an instrument in making this world more beautiful and its natural products more useful to the people."

Wooltex Tailored Suits and Coats in Fullest and Finest Assortments now

It is most gratifying to make the important selection of a new spring suit or coat while our collections of Wooltex garments are at their height; for naturally we cannot undertake to keep continuously in stock such a large variety of models as is now on exhibition.

Suit No. 1720
The picture illustrates Wooltex suit No. 1720—a very effective youthful model, which is equally becoming to all slender women. The jacket is in Polo effect, moderately full, with smart pockets on both jacket and skirt. Materials are checks, poplin and covert.

Every day you wait shortens the time of service which the new garment will give you, and likewise every day you wait takes off something of the enjoyment of possessing the new styles while they are at their height.

Women who have been to see the Wooltex exhibition express their delight over the moderateness of the prices that are marked on garments of such excellence and refinement.

The hand-tailoring at the vital points in the apparel, which gives permanency to the shapeliness of the garment, is a Wooltex feature of added cost in the production, which it seems amazing to secure at such moderate prices.

If you have not yet seen our full spring exhibition of Wooltex garments, come at the first moment you can, whether you anticipate buying or not. An equally hearty welcome if you come only to see the new styles.

PROHIBITION IS LOST FOR PRESENT

British Cabinet Adjourns This Afternoon Without Reaching Definite Decision.

COMPROMISE IS PROBABLE

(By United Press.)
London, April 7.—Prohibition advocates lost all immediate hope for a "dry" England when the British cabinet adjourned an important conference late this afternoon without reaching a definite decision on prohibition.

It was given out that Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lloyd George, will confer Friday with representatives of the liquor interests. This conference, it is understood, will result in the drafting of a compromise measure to be submitted when parliament reassembles next week.

In nearly every quarter the announcement that Lloyd George would confer on a compromise was accepted as an admission of defeat by the prohibition forces.

It was first reported to be wavering between Lloyd George's demand for drastic measures and pressure on the part of the big distilling and brewing interest for hands off. There was thought to be a possibility that the ban would be placed on all distilled liquors but that the sale of beer and light wines would not be interfered with.

Westward in the fighting for the Lupkow pass an equal number of prisoners had been taken, the war office announced, but exact figures were not available today.

RELIGION FAILED ON HOLD-UP MAN

Church Board and Minister Take Chance on Bandit But he Comes Back at Them

WANTED MONEY FIRST TIME

(By United Press.)

Oklahoma City Okla., 9 April 7.—F. E. Hims walked into the study of Rev. Phil Baird where he and eight directors of the First Presbyterian church were holding a meeting. Nine pulled a pug-nosed gun from his pocket and said:

"Gentlemen, I have a very unpleasant duty to perform. I want your money and I want it quick."

Rev. Phil Baird walked deliberately up to the gun and said: "Wait, my dear man. You probably need money but I will help you get it honestly. I will get you a job."

Nine, a college man who later admitted having served time in a New York workhouse, wanted his money on the spot. He said he had not eaten food for twenty-four hours. When finally the minister had talked him into putting away the gun, the meeting took up Nine's case.

Every man present pledged himself to keep the facts secret to save Nims.

Nine broke his promise to the minister and also lost the job the elders obtained for him. A week later he appeared at a church entertainment with the same business-like gun. A second time they made him put away the weapon. But while Rev. Baird was willing to try religion on Nine again the elders called the police. That's how the story became public.

ORDINANCE TO PAVE IS PASSED

certified to the city by the county auditor.

The city decided to place an electric meter in the city treasurer's office. At present the city treasurer is getting his electricity through the meter of the county and the city did not think it fair for the county to pay the city's bill.

After several months of waiting George W. Young got his bond claims adjusted with the city and the claims were ordered paid. The claims were held up until the records were straightened out.

The superintendent of the water and light plant A. T. Mahin, last night recommended to the council that the electric light rates be reduced for the benefit of the small consumer, the person who uses electricity for lighting purposes in his residence. The council is said to have looked on the recommendation with favor, but took no steps toward acting on it. The reduction can be made, it is stated, without going before the state public service commission. The superintendent said the plant was in such a condition that the city could afford to reduce the rates.

The recommendation was that the rate be cut to eight cents a kilowatt maximum. The proposed rate would be eight cents for the first hundred kilowatts, seven cents for the second hundred and six cents for all over that. The present rate is ten cents for the first fifty kilowatts, nine cents for the next fifty, eight cents for the next fifty and six cents for all over that.

First Prize at the Style Show!

WE ARE SHOWING herewith a reproduction of a suit that took first honors at one of the eastern style shows this Spring. We immediately ordered one of them, and it came in this morning. This and other models were shown on the style stage, and we were fortunate enough to be able to obtain them.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD HAVE A NEW SPRING SUIT

Styles are different. The flare skirts are worn short, and must be in complete harmony with the jackets.

FABRICS ARE POPLINS, GABARDINES, SERGES, SHEPHERD AND GUN-CLUB CHECKS. The popular colors are Navy and Belgian Blues, with a liberal showing of Sand and Putty.
